ASSESSMENT EQUALIZATION

Assessment equalization is a procedure established by the Province of Alberta to measure property wealth of each municipality. This is accomplished by converting each municipality's over-all property assessment to a common level.

It is not presently feasible to assess all properties in Alberta's municipalities in the same year, therefore, it is impossible to ensure that the level of assessment in one municipality is at the same level of value as that in another municipality. Land, other than farmland, is assessed using local market value as the criteria which varies with time and its location.

As a result the relationship of land assessment to its market value in one municipality and another may not be the same, therefore assessment/market value studies are required to accommodate the equalization of land assessment.

Assessments of all properties, with the exception of non-farm land is based on a depreciated average cost. Therefore buildings and improvements in municipalities will vary due to time and age. In the equalization process, construction costs are indexed to reflect modern conditions. A procedure is applied in the equalization of farmland assessments that is related to economic productivity factors.

Municipalities are involved in a number of cost shared operation programs such as schools, hospitals, community recreation and planning.

To correct any differences in the level of assessment between municipalities the provincial government established the Assessment Equalization Board. This body reviews a municipality's assessment level each year, compares it to the local market value and provincial construction costs then establishes the equalized assessment by converting it to the provincial level.

Using taxable assessment as a basis for cost sharing, the variations between assessments would create a disparity in the amount contributed by each municipality to the various cost-shared programs.

Based on the equalized assessment, municipalities contribute an equitable amount of funding to cost shared programs.

Equalized assessments are then used by the requistioning jurisdiction as shown in illustration A.

PREFACE

The land assessment/market value ratio data provided in this study, has been developed for each municipal jurisidiction in the Province of Alberta through an assessment/market value analysis completed by the municipality's appointed assessor. The analysis, which measures the relationship of the existing land assessment to market value of lands in 1985, is completed pursuant to the Municipalities Assessment and Equalization Act and is employed in the determination of the 1987 EQUALIZED ASSESSMENTS.

Equalized assessments, measuring property wealth, are used as the basis for collecting revenue for the Provincial School Foundation Fund, the allocation of supplemental costs amongst all school and hospital jurisdictions, the Alberta Planning Fund and other requisitioning authorities who may have cost sharing programs.

The assessment/market value ratio study provides pertinent data on the quality of assessment for property owners as well as municipal officials. Insight provided by this study is invaluable in the maintenance of assessment uniformity within and amongst municipalities.

PART I

DEVELOPMENT OF ASSESSMENT/MARKET SALES RATIO STUDIES

It is of paramount importance that maximum equity be attained between individual property owners and among taxing jurisdictions to ensure the proper distribution of the tax burden.

Assessment/sales ratio studies are conducted, to determine the relationship of non-farmland assessment to market value. This relationship, expressed as percentage is used by the Assessment Equalization Board in the calculation of equalized assessment for each municipality in the Province of Alberta.

A secondary and equally important use for the analysis is in the inspection and maintenance of assessments to insure an acceptable level of equity within each municipality.

Information contained within this report is compiled from the Alberta Assessment Equalization Board files.

SUPPLEMENTAL USES OF STUDIES

The assessment/market value ratio study is carried out to determine assessment levels for cost shared purposes, but the studies provide information for the assessor and the property tax administrators as well. For the assessor, these studies provide an insight into variations that may exist among assessments of specific properties within common land use zones, as well as between different areas or municipalities, a first step toward correction of inequities. For example, the information contained in this study may be beneficial as a means of comparing assessments for conformity between municipalities that are located within common requisitioning jurisdictions such as school divisions or hospital districts.

With respect to property tax administrators, assessment/market value ratio studies provide support to their claim for a more fair and uniform treatment. Legislative bodies may be interested in the information developed from these studies for use in ascertaining effective tax rates and tax limits based on either the assessed value or indicated market value.

PROCEDURES IN DEVELOPMENT

In order to develop accurate and reliable statistics for use by assessment personnel, the Assessment Equalization Board, or taxpayers, the full cooperation of property owners and public officials is required. Results of these studies are dependent upon the quality of the source data and therefore pertinent reliable real estate information is a pre-requisite.

In the development of the studies a number of procedural steps are employed as follows:

1) basic data on real estate transfers is gathered.

2) real estate transfers may be edited to exclude transfers except those that do not represent arms-length transactions,

3) relevant data is prepared, sorted and listed by real estate categories for each municipality.

4) data is totalled and meaningful statistical computations made to describe the information.

GATHERING OF MARKET DATA

The first and most important step in conducting the assessment market value ratio study is the collection of timely, reliable data on real estate transactions. It is estimated that approximately 122,000 real estate transfers occur annually in Alberta. Basic data is found on the Transfer of Land form used in preparation of the property title. Provincial law requires an Affidavit of Transfer as a pre-requisite to recording a real estate transfer instrument pursuant to the Land Titles Act. The basic data provided by the Transfer of Land Form is outlined as followed:

1) Name, address and occupation of transferor.

2) Legal description of property.

3) Name, address and occupation of transferee

4) Purchase date of property transferred.

5) Full consideration paid (sale price) or to be paid including any liens.

6) Condition of transfer, that is, transmission of estate, gift, company, out of Province.

7) Transferee opinion of fair market value.

As soon as a new title document is issued a copy is forwarded to Alberta Municipal Affairs for screening and editing.

COMPILATION OF DATA

Alberta Municipal Affairs transfers the information from land titles documents to the computer to be sorted by municipality and legal description. The computer then produces a market analysis form, for the assessors or assessment inspectors use, containing the following data:

- legal description of property
- date of sale
- acreage size
- opinion of market value as noted by transferee
- whether a crown or crown agency transfer

- out of Province sale
- partial interest
- leasehold interest
- Canadian land inventory one

The land assessment/market sales ratio survey is based upon the average market value in the year prior to the assessment year. For example, the 1986 assessment/market value ratio study is based upon transactions which occurred during 1985.

The volume of property sales during a one year period are often not adequate to provide a usable sample for a particular area or property type and there maybe a need to supplement them with sales from other years to provide a trended indication of value. An adjustment may be made to reflect changes in the price between the sale date and the period being studies. If additional data is required to obtain a sufficient sample, opinions are developed using various appraisal techniques, such as the income approach, to analyze the probable value of unsold parcels. Opinions of value expressed by Realtors and property owners is also considered.

The need for on site examination of properties sold or for development of supplementary data may occur in the market analysis of commercial and industrial properties. A limited number of vacant site transfers may occur and therefore the appraiser must utilize improved sales which may include obsolete buildings, non-assessable items, etc. An effort is then made to evaluate that portion attributable to land value.

INFORMATION SORTED AND LISTED

The relationship between land assessment and its market value is calculated for each real estate transfer. Individual ratios are then arranged in order of magnitude and listed by various classes of properties within the municipality. Within given areas or property classes, the individual ratios tend to be grouped around the mid or average, range or ratios. Data producing extreme high or low ratios is isolated for further review. It has been found that assessment/market value ratios at the extreme high or low end of the sample, are normally usable and therefore not excluded from the studies. If transfers are abundant for the various classes of property in an area doubtful transactions are discarded without further investigation.

After the assessment / market value ratios are screened for extremes and defective data extracted, the balance is organized and compiled for statistical analysis. The analysis is intended to provide a basis for:

1) comparing the level of assessments for several classes of property in individual municipalities, and

2) judging the quality of assessments among the different land classifications within each area.

The statistical measures used for measuring the average assessment/sales market relationship are: Mean, Median and Mode. Results are described as percentages.

PART II

STATISTICS OF ASSESSMENT MARKET VALUE RATIO STUDIES

One of the primary objectives in a property tax administration is to maintain the assessment of property on an equitable basis. Non-uniform assessment results in unwarranted tax shifts among property owners. An equitable distribution of the tax burden is achieved only if built upon uniform assessments.

It is exceedingly important that uniform assessments be attained not only among and between local property owners but equalization of assessments between taxing jurisdictions be attained since properties valuation also serve as a basis for:

1) allocating equalized assessment to different jurisdictions that have overlapping boundaries.

2) determining authorized levies that are restricted to statutory tax rate limits.

3) apportioning provincial assistance to local government units, such as the municipal assistance grant or the equity grant (Alberta Education).

In order to accomplish equalization, reasonably accurate and acceptable statistical procedures are necessary. The technique most commonly used to measure the degree of assessment inequality is that of determining the assessment/market value ratio; the relationship between the assessed value and the market value of particular parcels of property sold.

Additional data, developed using appraisal techniques and opinions of value may be required to supplement sales data. For purposes of this study, "Indicated Market Price" refers to data accumulated through all resources.

The aggregate of individual assessment / market value ratios for any area or property class is described as an average. Three averages may be considered: the mean, median, and aggregate with the mode being used to establish a trend. These averages, or measures of central tendency, provide a simple numerical value descriptive of how closely a group of individual assessment/market value ratios approach the prescribed statutory level.

The assessment/market value for an individual parcel of property sold is simply the relationship, expressed as a percentage, between the assessed value and the indicated market price. For each parcel of real estate sold, the assessment/market value ratio is found by dividing the assessed value by the full consideration paid and multiply by 100.

Parcel	Assessed Value	Indicated Market Price	Ratio
1	$ 1,870	$ 5,500	34.0
2	2,000	6,000	33.3
3	760	3,000	25.3
4	2,000	6,000	33.3
5	2,260	6,400	35.3

MEAN ASSESSMENT/MARKET VALUE RATIO

The mean, arthimetic average, is a measure of central location and provides a simple numerical value descriptive of a group of individual assessment/market value ratios. The mean is derived by computing the assessment/market value ratio for each parcel of property sold, adding these ratios together and dividing the total by the number of sales parcels in the sample.

Parcel	Assessed Value	Indicated Market Price	Ratio
1	$ 1,870	$ 5,500	34.0
2	2,000	6,000	33.3
3	760	3,000	25.3
4	2,000	6,000	33.3
5	2,260	6,400	35.3
			161.2

161.2 divided by 5 = 32.2 Mean

The mean is the most commonly used, easily understood average, but the fact that it is easily affected by one extreme ratio can lead to serious consequences. If the market data collected is abundant, accurate and representative, extreme high and low individual assessment/market ratios will not distort this average.

MEDIAN ASSESSMENT/MARKET VALUE RATIO

The median, is a measure of central tendency used to describe a group of individual assessment/market value ratios. The median is found by arranging the individual ratios in order of magnitude from highest to lowest, then selecting the middle ratio in the series.

Parcel	Assessed Value	Indicated Market Price	Ratio
5	$ 2,260	$ 6,400	35.3
1	1,870	5,500	34.0
2	2,000	6,000	33.3 Median
4	2,000	6,000	33.3
3	760	3,000	25.3

The median, unlike the mean, is not so readily affected by an extreme individual ratio. The median for a group of assessment/market value ratios depends on the position of items in the distribution rather than their magnitude, therefore undue influence is not given to usually high or low ratios. This feature is desirable due to the difficulty in identifying sales, that if the facts were known, would be discarded as unusable.

AGGREGATE ASSESSMENT/MARKET VALUE RATIO

The aggregate, or weighted average, is computed by dividing the total assessment value for the properties sold by the total sale price of those properties.

Parcel	Assessed Value	Indicated Market Price	Ratio
1	$ 1,870	$ 5,500	34.0
2	2,000	6,000	33.3
3	760	3,000	25.3
4	2,000	6,000	33.3
5	2,260	6,400	35.3

8,890 divided by 26,900 = 33.0 Aggregate

In the aggregate average, unlike the mean, each property sold is weighted through its indicated market price. Higher prices properties influence the average to a greater extent than lower priced properties. This effect is justified if the mix of higher priced properties in the sample is representative of the mix of higher priced properties in the municipality.

THE MODE ASSESSMENT/MARKET VALUE RATIO

The mode, like the mean and median, is a measure of central tendency used to described a group of individual ratios. The mode is also referred to as the trend of a series of ratios. The mode is arrived at by arranging individual ratios in order to magnitude, then selecting the ratio which occurs most often.

Parcel	Assessed Value	Indicated Price Price	Ratio
5	$ 2,260	$ 6,400	35.3
1	1,870	5,500	34.0
2	2,000	6,000	33.3	Mode
4	2,000	6,000	33.3
3	760	3,000	25.3

As 33.3 occurs more often than any other ratio, it is assumed to reflect the mode. Again the mode like the median is not affected by the extremes and therefore it is not influenced by unusually high or low ratios. There is a danger, however, of establishing a high or low trend in relation to the total number in a series and caution should be exercised when utilizing this statistical measure.

PART III

LAND ASSESSMENT TO 1985 MARKET RELATIONSHIP

BY MUNICIPALITY

The following is listing of land assessments categorized into four major groups consisting of:

- Commercial
- Industrial
- Residential
- Vacant Resident

The relationship of assessment to average market value and respective final indicated market values are shown adjacent to each category.

The overall assessment/market value relationship of land subject to equalization is calculated by dividing the sum of the land assessments by the sum of the indicated market value and is shown as an overall percentage of each municipality.

Land subject to the School Foundation Levy is treated in the same manner excluding the "residential" category.

Data in this section is listed by municipality code order by Counties, Cities, Improvement Districts, Municipal Districts, School Districts, Summer Villages, Towns and Villages.

Also shown are 1985 population statistics, the effective year of the last general assessment and the base assessment rates used at the time of the last general.

PART IV

BREAKDOWN OF ASSESSMENTS BY CATEGORY

The Breakdown of Assessments by Category report is an inventory of the 1986 taxable assessment used in determining equalized assessments for 1987.

Assessment information, classified for use in assessment/market ratio studies and the assessment equalization calculation procedure, is submitted to the Alberta Assessment Equalization Board by each municipality annually.

Neither the valuation of exempt properties nor assessment and valuation of pipeline, cable television line, Alberta Government Telephone lines, and power line is shown.

Machinery and equipment assessment is listed under M & E and SFP refers to the School Foundation Program.

EQUALIZED ASSESSMENT BY MUNICIPALITY

The 1986 property tax assessments and exempt property valuations upon which grants in lieu of taxes are paid, have been used in determining the 1987 equalized assessments. The Synopsis of Worksheets Report lists these assessments by valuations together with equalized assessments for each municipality and that portion of affiliated school and hospital jurisdictions located within the municipal boundaries.

Pipe, cable, Alberta Government Telphones (AGT), and Power Line assessments and valuations and corresponding equalized assessments are not included in the school or hospital allocation.

School Foundation Program (SFP) information is provided on the last line following each municipality's hospital and school listings.
